ARE YOU A SURVIVOR OF AN UNWANTED SEXUAL EXPERIENCE?

DID THE UNWANTED EXPERIENCE AFFECT YOUR WORK OR EMPLOYMENT IN SOME WAY?

If so, there is an opportunity to assist in a research study that will help understand how workplaces can better respond to employees who have had such experiences. This research is being conducted to better understand if and why an individual may tell someone at their place of employment about an unwanted sexual experience, the support they received, and how this disclosure may affect their feelings about their workplace.

Research participants will be asked to complete a 30-minute online survey about their unwanted sexual experience, their decision to tell someone at work (or not) about the experience, and the support received from their workplace. The survey is available in both English and Spanish languages, and is completely anonymous. No information that can identify you will be collected.

Participants will be provided with support service referrals and the opportunity to enter a raffle to win one of twenty Visa gift cards for the amount of $25.00 each.
